Caring for your Hurdle

• Although UCS hurdles are powder coated, it is important to store the hurdles inside after the season.

• To maintain hurdles, we recommend using a synthetic teflon lubricant at the beginning and end of each season or twice a year.

• Check hurdles at the beginning and end of each season to make sure the hurdles are in good working condition.

• Make sure the hurdle is assembled correctly and the screws are secure, as this could cause serious injury. Any missing parts should be replaced before use.

• Never jump in the opposite direction from its intended use.

• Use a dolly or a cart to transport the hurdles. Carts and dolly's are available through UCS.

• Although hurdles stack, bumping could cause them to fall and damage the hurdle and possibly cause injury.

• Hurdling is particularly dangerous on slippery or wet surfaces, especially wet grass, and beginners shouldn't train with hurdles in these conditions.
